

Meet Willum

Willum is Dord's brilliant big brother — full of energy, big ideas and an even bigger love for music. If he's not strumming his guitar, he's outside kicking a football, climbing something he probably shouldn't, or inventing a new game that sends everyone into fits of laughter.

He adores his little sister, even when she steals the spotlight with her singing, and he's always the first to cheer her on. Willum is happiest outdoors, exploring, running, playing and soaking up every bit of adventure the world has to offer. With his musical talent, kind heart and boundless enthusiasm, he brings rhythm, fun and a spark of mischief to every Bob & Julie story.
