

From Bob and Julie and the Musical Bugs...

Meet the Musical Bugs

The Musical Bugs are a travelling band of tiny, talented performers who bring music, colour and chaos wherever they flutter. Cuthbert leads the group with his bright, brassy trumpet; Herbert keeps everyone in time with his booming berry-drums; Hugh can't quite sing in tune, but he hums his heart out anyway; and The Fred plays the bass with a cool, steady rhythm that holds the whole band together.

Friendly, kind and full of charm, the Musical Bugs have spent a long time searching for a place to call home. When Bob and Julie welcome them with open arms, the bugs are overwhelmed with gratitude — finally, a safe, happy place where their music can shine. Now they join Willum, Dord and Autumn on adventures, filling the garden with songs, laughter and the sweetest little concerts you've ever heard.
